GLSF — MILWAUKEE

From the Helm – President's Message

Bob Wincek

"An Organization of Sportsmen Dedicated to the Enjoyment, Preservation and Improvement of Salmon and Trout Fishing in the Great Lakes."

Greetings GLSF Members, Affiliates, and Sponsors,

Our Brew City Salmon Tournament was successfully held on the rescheduled date of Sunday, August 9th, thanks to weather conditions beyond our control. We ended up refunding some of the entries due to scheduling conflicts, but at the same time we gained about 5 additional boats for the competition. The weather "almost" cooperated, but there were a few afternoon storm cells.

The outstanding news is that the fish continued to feed, and the ones that were caught seemed to be fairly large. As a result, after all the fish were weighed, and all the donated fish were fileted, we managed to donate 2080 pounds of fresh fish filets to the Milwaukee Hunger Task Force! This is over 1 ton of fresh, wild caught Salmin and trout! Newspaper Reporter, Paul Smith, happened to stop by for a few pictures, and he did an article on the donation. What he published in the Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel is that the donated fish had an estimated retail value of $52,000.00! WOWZA!! Talk about donations! Congratulations to all who donated fish, to all the folks moving the coolers and to all the volunteers spending hours and hours fileting and bagging a "ton" of fish, as well as setting up and taking down all of our Tournament gear.

Special mention goes out to Eric Lesch and one of his park employees for "hand feeding" all the fish viscera into the fish grinder to keep it from continually clogging up! As a result, we are expecting a new, improved fish grinder next year, capable of handling the large amounts of fish parts generated while fileting large salmon and trout!

Our first in-person Club meeting after the Summer break, is next Tuesday, September 8th, at 7pm, at Joe's K Ranch, Hopefully, our Guest Speaker will be Captain Mark Scaffidi and his fishing team after winning First Place in the 2026 GLSF Brew City Salmon Tournament!

Remember, the GLSF Members' Ongoing Fishing Contest continues through October 31st. The Fish of the Month for September and October is Chinook. Good Luck!

Lastly, everyone was sent a copy of my letter resigning from the Club Presidency, effective December 31, 2026. In order for our organizations to remain strong and active, we need strong, energetic, forward-thinking board members and volunteers. 3 Board positions are up for election on November 10th, at the monthly GLSF Meeting at Joe's K Ranch. Have you considered running for one of them?

I see challenges and opportunities ahead. Are you ready and available to help? Please?

I hope to see you on Tuesday, 9/8 at Joe's K Ranch,

Bob

The Annual Hearings in all 72 Wisconsin Counties were held on Monday, April 11th. Milwaukee County re-elected Brian Haydin to a 2-year term and Jason Golzales to the 3-year term.

Waukesha County re-elected Bob Wincek to a 3-year term and Jeff Hintz to a 2-year term.

There were numerous questions to vote on from the DNR, the NRB and the Conservation Congress, along with numerous local resolutions. Voting took place both in person on 4/11, and on-line for 48 hours. The results are still being tabulated. The results will be posted on the WCC Web Page on the DNR Website.

The 2026-2027 committee assignments can be found at this link: <https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/about/wcc/Committees>

The history of the WCC can be found at this link: <https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/about/wcc/history>

All of the local delegates for all 72 Wisconsin Counties can be found at this link: <https://dnr.wisconsin.gov/about/wcc/Delegates>

How many members are aware that there is a Youth component to the Wisconsin Conservation Congress called the Youth Conservation Congress? Their Charter is the same as the WCC and their members are mentored by members of the WCC. To learn more, click the link below and read their newsletter. Membership and 2026 Membership Dues

As of this newsletter, We have 144 current members, including many lifetime members.

At the December 2023 Board Meeting, the Board voted to reduce our annual dues to $20 for all memberships. There is no practical way to update our website, so it continues to send our reminders at your original price. I found a way to offer a discount down to $20 if I see your renewal notice, so you can renew at the $20 price, starting in January 2024. If you renew at your original price, I will contact you and offer a partial refund, or to extend your membership appropriately. If you have questions, send me an E Mail at bob@glsfclub.com, or call me on my cell phone – 414-217-9752. You, the membership of this organization, are the life and blood that keep it alive. Please renew when notified. All new membership starting in December, are priced at $20 per year, and that is the amount charged on-line for new members.

To renew, use the form on the back of the Tightline and send in, or hand in your check or cash at our meetings, pay with a credit card at our meetings, or renew on-line by logging in with your personal login and select the membership option.

If you joined or renewed in October 2023, you will not see your reminders until September 2024. There are a few known bugs in our membership program which we hope will be resolved soon. There have been some inconsistencies with our membership module on our website, so if you believe our data is incorrect, contact me, I can give you your exact expiration date. I do keep a manual spreadsheet to track all memberships.

Why a GLSF Membership!

- 1. Supporting the sport fishery in Lake Michigan and looking out for sport fishermen. The club works with the DNR on the fish stocking program, works with Milwaukee County Parks such as providing updates to the fish cleaning station and is very active in the advocacy arena as well.
- 2. For the community, we facilitate many fishing clinics throughout the year, mostly geared towards kids, but also for adults.
- 3. Annually, we have a FREE fishing clinic with recognized experts in the field, such as Keating and Woda. This free clinic is for members and anyone who has donated to the club in the last year.
- 4. An opportunity to meet and network with other fishermen in the area, this is a great place to talk about what's working and what isn't. Learn from others who want to pass on their knowledge.
- 5. Annual fishing contest running from spring through the fall, with an opportunity to win $$$!
- 6. Monthly fishing events and our fish-ins, with prizes awarded for the top captains and free food!
- 7. Monthly newsletter to keep you informed on the latest news impacting us as fishermen.
- 8. Monthly meetings to learn from experts, whether that is the DNR, Weather Service, or from expert fishermen to improve your skills and techniques.

Club Ongoing Fishing Contest Rules – 2026

- All fish entered must have been caught in Lake Michigan or its connecting waters and must be registered by the angler who caught the fish. Species, weight and date caught must be verified by a witness and weighed on an official, state certified scale. While at the scale, the registrant will fill out and the witness will sign the Club's official entry form. The original copy will be deposited in the writing desk by the scale at the McKinley Marina Cleaning Station, and the carbonless copy will be kept by the member. Please keep this copy as it is your proof of catch. Altered forms will not be accepted. Fish entered in sanctioned contests (see #10) will be allowed when the member furnishes a copy of the entry form. This form must be signed by the official weighing the fish. It is the member's responsibility to get his or her copy to the GLSF contest chairperson or have it placed in the collection box at McKinley Marina within 48 hours of making the catch. All final decisions are subject to approval by the Board of Directors.
- Prior to the opening of the Cleaning Station at McKinley Marina, the "Official Weigh-In Station, you will need to use the Temporary Rules that follow:
 - During the month of April, the weighing of fish you want to enter is your responsibility. You must use an electronic fish scale that can clearly measure in pounds and tenths of a pound, pounds and ounces that can be mathematically converted to tenths of a pound. You must send a picture to the Chairman, Jay Mathwick via text to (414) 702-5078. The picture needs to clearly include the fish being registered, and the weight being displayed on the digital scale. In the accompanying text message, make sure to include your full name, date, fish species, weight, and the category you wish to register.
 - After the McKinley Marina Cleaning Station opens, all fish need to be weighed on the certified fish hanging scale inside the Cleaning Station. Forms, sometime pens, are found in the writing desk by the GLSF freezer. After fish is weighed and the form is filled out completely, they need to be deposited in slot for the holding box under the writing top, within 48 hours of the catch.
- If a fish is being weighed at a sanctioned contest according to rule #10, the weigh-in form and contest verification must be turned in within 48 hours of the catch. For simplification, fish registered at a GLSF Fish In can be registered in the Ongoing Contest by filling out the additional Ongoing Form available at the Fish In weigh-in table, at the time of the weigh-in.
- Awards will be given according to weight. In the event of a tie, the award will be given to the entrant with the earliest registration date.
- The contest will officially run from April 1st through October 31.
- Minimum Size limits for Individual Prizes and Fisherman of the Year

Species	Adult	Junior
Chinook Salmon	19 pounds	12 pounds
Coho Salmon	7 pounds	5 pounds
Brown Trout	6 pounds	3 pounds

Species	Adult	Junior
Lake Trout	10 pounds	5 pounds
Rainbow Trout	8 pounds	5 pounds

- Awards will be given to the first, second, and third place for the adult and junior divisions. The junior division is for member's minor children, not grand-children, 17 years of age and younger. Persons 18 years and older must compete in the adult division. No one will be eligible for more than one award in each category. Awards will consist of money for adults and trophies for juniors.
 - Juniors are not eligible to compete in Fisherman of the Year, Grand Slam, Captains' Catch, Fish of the Month, or Big Fish of the Month.
- The "Fisherman of the Year" award of $50 will be given to the person who registers the highest combined weight of the five-different species and minimum weights above, of salmon and trout. These fish can be accumulated throughout the course of the contest, for a single person, regardless of where they were caught.
- The "Grand Slam" award of $50 will be given to the fisherman who registers the heaviest weight of all five species that are caught and registered all on a single fishing trip and registered at the same time. There is no minimum weight requirement for this category.
- The "Captain's Catch Award" of $50 Dollars will be given to the captain who registers the highest total using the heaviest of each of the five species, registered as Captain's Catch.
 - One captain per boat will be allowed to register. The person who will register as the -Captain" should be determined at the beginning of the contest and remain so for the entire season.
 - To register for this award, place the name of the person who caught the fish on the "witness to catch" line and indicate in the proper box.
 - This registration does not prevent a member from using their personal catch for their own personal awards. A separate registration form should be used for this.
 - Charter Captains while fishing with charters are ineligible for this award.
- A monthly award will be given for the biggest fish of the month in weight, for the current month. The Captain of the boat can include that fish in their Captain's catch, or you can register that fish as an individual. The winner of the Fish of the Month and the Biggest Fish of the Month cannot "Double Dip" and win both of those awards.
- An Adult monthly award will be given for the "Fish of the Month." The Award of will be given for the largest of the species registered during the month assigned.

Fish of the Month Species	April: Brown Trout	June: Coho	August: Lake Trout	October: Chinook
	May: Brown Trout	July: Rainbow Trout	September: Chinook

- Sanctioned contests are tournaments held by other clubs or organizations and are open to the general public and take place on Lake Michigan and its connecting waters.
- A fish will be considered a "Club Record Fish" if it exceeds the weight of the existing fish and was officially registered in the 'Club Fishing contest under all contest rules. The fish must have been weighed at an official weigh-in station or at a sanctioned contest, and a complete registration form, along with good picture of the fish in the hands of the fisherman is provided to the contest chairman for publication in the 'Tightline.' All final decisions are subject to approval by the Board of Directors.

Facebook Live Stream!

Members and Guests,

We are very excited to announce that the club will now have the ability to Live Stream. The Board has been discussing how can we increase the club's mission to the community and our members. We needed another way to expand our exposure to show what the club is all about and portray our mission statement. We decided what a better way than to livestream.

We purchased the equipment needed and tested live streaming our March meeting. Yes there was a couple hiccups and learning experiences, however overall it was a great success.

So going forward, we will now be live streaming all of our club meetings. In addition, we are going to test live streaming from our events to include the Sport Show, Kids Fishing Clinics, Club Fishing Events and YES, we will Livestream our Brew City Tournament to include the Full Weigh In and Awards Ceremony.

We need 1 to 2 dedicated Volunteers to make this work! Do you have cinematic dreams? Please talk to Ron or Bob.

Our goal is to increase our community exposure to show how great our club is, increase membership and fully BRAND our mission statement.

Thank You — The Board

Can Habitat Restoration Help Salmon Recover? Prairie Creek Offers Clues

Researchers tracked salmon before, during, and after restoration to understand how restored channel and floodplain habitat influences growth, survival, and recovery of threatened coho salmon.

When any habitat restoration project finishes, a critical question remains: Will the project help threatened fish and other species recover? Answering that question requires rigorous long-term monitoring.

At the Prairie Creek salmon habitat restoration project in Northern California, researchers have conducted monitoring before, during, and after construction. The monitoring will determine whether the project would improve the survival prospects of threatened Southern Oregon/Northern California Coast coho salmon. Researchers included NOAA Fisheries' Office of Habitat Conservation, Cal Poly Humboldt, and other partners.

The project transformed a former lumber mill site into wetlands, side channels, and off-channel ponds where juvenile salmon can rest, feed, and grow before migrating to the Pacific Ocean. Juvenile salmon that grow big and strong in freshwater have a better chance of surviving their time in the ocean and returning as adults to spawn.

Early findings suggest that juvenile coho salmon using the restored habitat are growing faster and experiencing higher ocean survival than prior generations from the same watershed. Preexisting monitoring data going back to 2011 gave the team an unusually long baseline against which to measure change. Their findings are also changing what scientists understand about how juvenile salmon use coastal watersheds.

Monitoring: Early Signs of Success

Researchers from Cal Poly Humboldt set up a salmon life-cycle monitoring station to determine how coho salmon and other species were responding to the project.

Each fall, team members wade into Prairie Creek, catch a sample of juvenile coho salmon, measure them to assess growth rates, and implant them with Passive Integrated Transponders, or PIT tags. These microchips are the size of a grain of rice, and last for the fish's lifetime. They are detected by antenna arrays placed at strategic locations throughout the watershed, automatically logging each fish's location and timing. The team also counts redds, or salmon nests, during the winter spawning season and counts smolts, juvenile fish heading to the ocean, each spring.

"The winter of 2024, we had our second-highest redd estimate ever," said Katherine Stonecypher, who leads the monitoring program. "That corresponds with spring 2023's smolt abundance estimate, which was the highest ever—the first cohort to have had the opportunity to use the restoration site as juveniles. This past winter, we saw a robust return as well."

Using PIT tag data, the team calculated that 2.6 percent of the 2023 juvenile coho cohort survived the ocean and returned to spawn as adults. Previous estimates had put marine survival at around 1 percent. This suggests the out-migrating juveniles were healthier and better able to survive ocean conditions.

"Monitoring for just one 3-year life cycle is not enough to tell you what the population is doing," said Stonecypher. "But if you show an increase over time, you can say: This is when we restored this section of lower Prairie Creek, and we're showing that a sizable proportion of the population is using it."

Research also found that juvenile fish using the restored off-channel habitat grow faster than fish staying in the main creek channel.

Better Habitat, Bigger Fish

"In certain sites and certain years, the fish using restoration sites grew up to twice as fast," said Carter Adamson, a fish biologist with the Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission who completed his master's thesis on fish growth at the Prairie Creek restoration site. "Individuals that grow faster are more likely to survive to outmigration, more likely to survive at sea, and more likely to return to the stream to spawn as adults."

Adamson noted that some restored areas provided variable growth rates from year to year, while others stayed consistent.

"This shows the importance of having multiple restoration sites," said Adamson. "If, for whatever reason, one site isn't providing the benefits we want in a given year, another site can make up for it."

Monitoring at Prairie Creek will continue through at least 2028.

DNR And DHS Issue 2026-2028 Fish Consumption Booklet

New Choose Wisely Booklet Outlines Updated Safe-Eating Guidelines

MADISON, Wis. – The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR), in partnership with the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), today announced the online publication of the 2026-2028 Choose Wisely booklet, which outlines consumption guidelines for fish caught from waterbodies across the state.

While fish are a great source of lean protein and healthy omega-3 fats, pollutants from the water they live in and the food they eat may build up in their bodies. Some pollutants can build up to levels that can be harmful to wildlife and humans who eat fish.

The DNR routinely samples fish from popular angling areas and waters with suspected pollution and contaminants, including polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), mercury and perfluorooctane sulfonate (PFOS), a type of PFAS. Scientists use the levels of contamination found in the fish and the best available evidence for how those contaminants affect human health to determine how much fish is safe to eat over a lifetime.

"The DNR tests for contaminants in fish from a number of waterbodies each year and uses these new results, along with past testing, to update the advice for these waters if needed," said Sean Strom, DNR environmental toxicologist. "It is important for anglers who frequently eat fish to check for new advisory updates."

Since the DNR published the prior version of Choose Wisely in 2024, the Great Lakes Consortium for Fish Consumption Advisories updated its recommended fish consumption guidelines for levels of PFOS in fish fillets. The DNR and DHS reviewed these new recommendations and made changes to several existing consumption advisories. Certain locations, such as parts of the Yahara River Chain of Lakes and the Wisconsin and La Crosse rivers, now have more restrictive consumption advisories, including "Do Not Eat" for some species.

The DNR and DHS encourage anglers and those eating fish from Wisconsin's waters to review the newly updated recommendations in Choose Wisely to ensure they are following current safe-eating guidelines. Anglers can also look for signage with waterbody-specific advisories posted at some access points to help make decisions about which fish to keep in order to minimize consuming unwanted contaminants.

In addition to the updated Choose Wisely booklet, waterbody-specific consumption advice can be found by using the DNR's online query tool.

Get Ready For Hunting Seasons Opening In September

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources reminds hunters to prepare for the opening of several hunting seasons in September. New this fall, the DNR published an online version of the hunting regulations, including a drop-down filter that can help people navigate to the info they need faster.

There are six dates throughout September when seasons open. Hunters are encouraged to double-check season dates and that they have acquired all necessary licenses and stamps before going out for a hunt.

Sept. 1

Common gallinule
Early Canada goose
Early teal
Mourning dove
Rail
Snipe

Sept. 9

Bear (Zones A, B, C, D, E and F with aid of bait and all other legal methods not using dogs)

Sept. 12

Cottontail rabbit (Northern Zone)
Deer (archery and crossbow)
Ruffed grouse (Zone A)
Squirrels (gray and fox)
Turkey

Sept. 16

Regular goose (Northern and Southern zones)
Bear (Zones A, B, D with the aid of dogs, the aid of bait and all other legal methods)

Sept. 19

Youth waterfowl
Woodcock

Sept. 26

Duck (Northern Zone)

The DNR also reminds hunters of mobile-friendly online resources, including hunting regulations, season dates, hunting hours and more, available on the DNR's Hunting webpage. Hunters can find information on species population levels and hunting opportunities on the DNR's fall hunting forecasts.

A list of public lands open to hunting is available using the Public Access Lands webpage. This web resource lets hunters plan their next adventure from the comfort of their home.

The Fields and Forest Lands Interactive Game Bird Hunting Tool provides hunters information on managed dove fields, stocked pheasant properties, as well as habitat for hunting ruffed grouse and woodcock.

As Wisconsin's most popular hunting seasons ramp up, it's important for all hunters to do their part to keep Wisconsin a safe place to hunt by following these firearm safety rules:

T - Treat every firearm as if it is loaded.

A - Always point the muzzle in a safe direction.

B - Be certain of your target, what's before and beyond it.

K - Keep your finger outside the trigger guard until you are ready to shoot.

Anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1973, must have a hunter education certification to purchase a hunting license unless hunting under the Mentored Hunting Law. Learn more about safe hunting in Wisconsin and register to take a hunter education course on the DNR website.

The DNR wishes all hunters a safe and successful 2026 hunting season.

Anglers donate to those experiencing food insecurity

Volunteers fill crates with bags of filleted salmon and trout on Aug. 9 during the Brew City Salmon Tournament in Milwaukee. Anglers in the event donated 2,080 pounds of fresh fish to the Hunger Task Force. The fish was distributed to Milwaukee food pantries Aug. 10.

Fish records are kept by a multitude of organizations at the state, national and world levels. And in hundreds of categories, too, including by species and for hook-and-line, catch-and-release, spear fishing and more. With all due respect to all of those, in my opinion they can't match the significance of a record established Aug. 9 at a Milwaukee fishing tournament. Anglers at the 2026 Brew City Salmon Tournament donated 2,080 pounds of salmon and trout to the Hunger Task Force.

The amount is a record high in fish donated from the event, said Jerry Pipp, director of operations for Hunger Task Force. 'It's gigantic,' Pipp said. 'Over the course of the year, nothing else compares to the Brew City donations.' Hunger Task Force is a nonprofit organization serving food pantries in Milwaukee County. While food is regularly donated to Hunger Task Force by organizations and individuals, it's almost always scanned, dried or frozen.

The fish provided by the Brew City anglers was cleaned, filleted and bagged in family-sized portions. After being transported to the Hunger Task Force facility in Milwaukee, it was stored overnight in safe, temperature-controlled conditions and distributed Aug. 10 to local food pantries.

If you bought it in a market, the fish would be advertised as 'fresh caught,' 'wild caught' and 'never frozen.' All of which is true in the case of the Brew City salmon and trout donations.

Volunteers Brenda Rosin-Schaff and Will Awve clean fish on Aug. 9 at the Brew City Salmon Tournament in Milwaukee. The price of such fish is often $25 per pound in Wisconsin stores. That's too expensive for many people, especially those experiencing food insecurities. So for sake of discussion, the fishing tourney donations had an estimated retail value of $52,000. And more, they provided a rare, fresh and nutritious component to the diets of hundreds of local residents.

'Distributing fresh fish to people in our community doesn't happen without this tournament,' Pipp said. 'It's really valuable from every perspective.' The Brew City tournament is organized by the Milwaukee Great Lakes Sport Fishing Club and has been held mostly annually since the late 1990s. In 2013, fishing club members decided to start donating fish from the event to local food pantries, said club representative Bob Wincek. It evolved into the relationship with Hunger Task Force.

Over about the last decade, Brew City organizers have asked tourney participants to consider donating their catches to Hunger Task Force. The anglers have responded in a big way. The tournament's one-day format has teams of anglers fishing the Lake Michigan waters of Wisconsin from early morning to early afternoon with the requirement they are in the weigh-in line by the appointed time.

Prizes are awarded to the teams with the heaviest 10-fish bags. This year the weigh-in was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at McKinley Marina in Milwaukee. But a severe thunderstorm rolled through southeastern Wisconsin about 11 a.m. Its arrival included a dramatic shelf cloud over Milwaukee. And the Lake Michigan anglers, among the most weather-aware segment of our population, made their way into the Milwaukee harbor before the high winds and rain hit.

The storm knocked out power at McKinley Marina, delaying the weigh-in process and denying fish cleaners the use of the grinder at the site's public fish cleaning station. But after about an hour power was restored. And it did nothing to dampen the enthusiasm of the participants and volunteers at the event. Among the volunteers were members of the Wisconsin Council of Sport Fishing Organizations who filleted and bagged fish.

The tournament was won by a team with Milwaukee Offshore Fishing led by Capt. Mark Scaffidi. The team weighed a 10-fish bag of 151 pounds. The fish were all chinook salmon caught northeast of Milwaukee and mostly on dodger-fly combos, Scaffidi said. The team brought 14 fish to shore, intentionally leaving one short of the legal limit in case they caught a very big fish to help their tournament weight. The biggest individual fish were chinook salmon in the 20-pound range, Scaffidi said. The first-place finish came with a $2,625 check and trophy.

To the point of my column, though, the team donated all 14 fish, totaling about 200 pounds, to the Hunger Task Force. Every team I talked to did the same. The donated fish were distributed within 24 hours to 12 food pantries in Milwaukee, Pipp said.

The fish were separated into 67 bins, each containing about 31 pounds of fillets. 'Generally by that evening it's in the homes and in the hands of people who need it,' Pipp said. 'It's really gratifying to see how the anglers support this need.' Based on my observations Aug. 9 at the tournament, the record isn't safe. 'We lost a couple hours of fishing due to that storm,' Wincek said. 'And I can tell you, the Brew City anglers are determined to break their fish donation mark next year. It's become a source of pride.'

NEW Recipe of the Month

Bang Bang Salmon with Avocado Cucumber Salsa

Total Time: 22 minutes Yield: 4 servings

Ingredients

1 1/2 pounds salmon filet
1-2 tablespoons all-purpose seasoning mix
(see notes for homemade below)
1/4 cup mayo
2 tablespoons sweet chili sauce
1 clove garlic, grated
1 teaspoon soy sauce
Chili crisp for topping
(a spicy, savory, and crunchy oil-based condiment)

Instructions

Prep the Salmon: Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut the salmon into individual portions if you want. Pat the salmon dry. Coat the salmon with the spice mix. Place salmon on a parchment-lined baking sheet.

Make the Bang Bang Sauce: Mix mayo, sweet chili sauce, garlic, and soy sauce in a small bowl. Set half of it aside for after baking.

Bake the Salmon: Spread a small spoonful of sauce over the seasoned salmon pieces. Bake for 10 minutes towards the top of the oven. Then turn the broiler on for another 2-3 minutes, until your salmon looks golden brown and a bit caramelized on top.

Serve: Serve the salmon over rice, with a vegetable of choice, and the reserved bang bang sauce + chili crisp drizzled over top! So easy and so good.

Find it online: <https://pinchofyum.com/bang-bang-salmon-with-avocado-cucumber-salsa>

For Serving:

Cooked rice

Some kind of vegetable - suggest a little avocado cucumber salsa which you can find below!

Seasoning Mix: If you don't have a good seasoning mix, or if you're not sure if the one you have will be good here, just sprinkle your salmon with about a teaspoon of coarse kosher salt, and then some onion powder, garlic powder, and paprika. This helps give flavor to the salmon and it also helps the sauce stick to the salmon.

Avocado Cucumber Salsa: Mix 1 avocado (diced), half of a cucumber (diced), a handful of chopped cilantro, a bit of lime juice, a pinch of salt, and a tablespoon of honey in a small bowl. Done! Perfect pretty little green veg for the bowl..

TRAP SHOOTING on Tuesday Evenings

At Schultz Gun Club Every Tuesday Evening, Weather Permitting

This Event is  OPEN to ALL!

Whether you're at a Beginner,
Intermediate, or at an Advanced Level,
Everyone is Welcome!

Time: 5:00PM to 8PM

Cost: $7.00 per Round

Bring Your Shotgun and Shell's

We ask that you please bring cash in $7 dollar increments for the number of rounds you wish to shoot, (i.e., $7, $14, $21, etc.) Sorry, cash only.

Beginners and/or Handicapped are most welcome and encouraged to attend. Even if you've never shot trap before, we will take the time to teach and help you learn the basics. This is a casual event with no pressure or hurry. There are no trap leagues on Tuesday evenings so just relax; enjoy this sport and have fun! When finished, feel free to socialize with your fellow trap shooters over a cold beverage, snacks, and pizza in the clubhouse!

Trap Rules

- If you're new to this sport, please bring your gun "cased" to the line and wait for instructions from the Range Safety Officer.
- If you are an experienced trap shooter, bring your shotgun, action open per Club Rules, to the trap area and place your gun in the wooden gun racks.
